Good afternoon Stewart

Thank you once again for your paper and consideration of issues around the NI RH.I

As Stewart and I indicated when we met the Phase 2 review of the non-domestic RHI will be taken forward after Christmas once our work concludes on introducing the domestic RHI. We consider that the best approach at this point would be that we look at your paper in the context of issues to be addressed in the wider Phase 2 review.

Certainly we will want to ensure that large water source heat pumps are properly incentivised in the NI RHI and your paper is a good starting point for setting out the issues in that regard.

We will be in touch with you again once the review work commences.

Regards

Seamus

Good afternoon Guys,

Further to our earlier meeting and as discussed we have put together a draft white paper combining:

- Information around our sustainable industrial heat pump solution
- Why the NI RHI is not working
- A few interesting quotes and slides.

You kindly suggested to review the paper and I would be most appreciative if you could provide any feedback on the content and or what how we should appropriately amend etc.

I am happy to pop in again and ultimately provide any hard copies required .

As also mentioned we have been in discussions with Bombardier (keen to see the heat pump) and happy to help support any changes to the RHI around our industrial heat pumps.

Kindest regards

Stewart Porter

Director

Ps was also talking to a colleague of yours Peter Barbour (he lives across the road from me)
