Hello, I understand the domestic scheme will be closed at the end of this month
We were in the middle of a self build and were approx. 3 months from installing a gshp, not being on mains gas etc
Is the domestic scheme likely to be open in the future again anytime, are there any options for ourselves in this situation

I have been following the news recently and this is a major decision for ourselves so would appreciate any help or information you could give

Many Thanks
