Just arrived in hotel. Meeting Scots at 7.30.

Room small and in basement but seems clean and adequate, if massively overpriced. Room rate at reception £240 per night.

Ofgem meeting quite difficult. De minimis only a possible solution in 4 of the 8 cases. Energy Division going to have to take a least loss decision, possibly having to ask the Minister to give a Direction, on the others. The decision may also destabilise the situation in GB. Some in Ofgem looking to wriggle out of the hole, others seem intent on making the hole deeper.
