Stephen

As we discussed, this information has been shared with the PAC. We have also answered an number of AQWs in relation to application numbers. For example, the attached answer provides application numbers for accredited installations.

Although the chart showing the spike isn't in the public domain, I can see no reason why we wouldn't release either the chart or the table of application numbers. I therefore agree that it can be included in the State aid notification.

Happy to discuss.

Thanks, Stuart

Stuart.

As just discussed, I would like to include this chart in the State aid notification.

I don't need an answer immediately, as the State aid notification can't be submitted until the business case clears all the requisite NI approvals, but I would be grateful if you confirm this chart is already out in the public domain.
