Got a call from Patrick McGlughan. He was speaking to a biomass expert today.

Makes point that the subsidy follows the boiler rather than the applicant. So when the boiler gives up the applicant will have to reapply.

Says most of the boilers installed were crap and will only last 5yrs.

JR

I called Andrew and didn't mention where I got the info but asked him to look into this. Mi had raised this with him before and he hadn't come back.

Why would we buy people out of their boilers are going to bust?

As I was leaving the office, I bumped into A McC. Said he was unable to sleep over this. I sense he's worried. I think he has made a complete clown of himself on this tape.

He would be mad to go alone to nolan

I think you're right John. His concerned reaction suggests he has said things he knows he shouldn't have. This could be very bad for him

I've tried to get him back on the phone but can't. Do we need to speak to him or did HOCS help fill in blanks?

Sent to John Robinson, Simon Hamilton on 21 Dec 2016 20:02:50

Sounds like JB had said to Amc if he does not do nolan he will release tapes elsewhere

John doesn't seem convinced at all by the idea of an interview

From T.J.

If a mc doing interview all I ask is that he tells the truth in anything to do with me.

Sent to Simon Hamilton on 21 Dec 2016 22:34:12

Yes but Amc seems determined and if the option is to play tapes hard to see what to be lost?

RI

Received from Simon Hamilton on 21 Dec 2016 22:34:50

Let's give this whole thing careful thought. If he talks it won't be with our interests at the forefront of his mind. If he tells the truth and doesn't speculate or offer opinion we've nothing to worry about but he was a mess this evenings if that version of him is the one doing the interview God help us
