Hi Natasha,

Thanks for flagging that. At present the NI regulations are still in draft form, so we cannot give any definitive answers as to how we would be administering the scheme as the regulatory framework has not been established. The best line we can take at the present time is:

“DETI are yet to launch this scheme, however the regulations are expected to be laid later this year and the scheme launched soon afterwards. Ofgem haven’t been confirmed as the administrator of this scheme as yet, but if we were to be, our approach to administration would mirror that for the GB RHI scheme.”

I would point them towards the GB RHI guidance document, heavily caveat that it is subject to change for the NI RHI scheme, but would be a very good pointer.

Hope that’s helpful and don’t hesitate to ask for anything else.

Paul

Hello Paul,

I have been asked by Ollie More to contact you.

We are receiving a few enquiries on NIRHI – and would like to know if you have any lines you would like us to take when giving advice.

Thank you,

Natasha
