Thanks Michelle.

One thing that jumped out at me was "Eligibility date regarding commissioning of installation changed to 1st Sept 2010". I hadn't realised it was this date (I had it in my head that there was little to no transition period). Is this cause for concern? How many installations do we think might apply on day one of the scheme?

Subject: Update on final draft guidance for NIRHI consultation

Dear Matthew,

Please find attached a word document listing the additional changes made to the NIRHI guidance since we last communicated. This has been agreed with Ofgem Legal and Ops. As you will see, there is nothing major. This has now been sent to DETI who will publish on their website tomorrow.

Kind Regards

Michelle
