Matthew

Most of the discussion at MC today was focussed on EPC papers etc.

When it came to the 'key developments' roundup, I did mention about you're still waiting for interim ECO funding, hoping to get it today. Stuart noted and seemed comfortable on the basis you were expecting today (so I guess you'll want to update him if you don't).

The discussion on both accommodation and MC duties was actually postponed until the next MC meeting so you and Liz can join in.

One thing that came up was how well prepared we all are for the Olympics. I said my team was pretty comfortable we could cope, and that whilst I didn't know about the rest of New Schemes in detail I knew that you'd been asking about it and I didn't think there were any big problems. You might find Stuart wants to follow-up with you directly on that. (As a spin off from this there was also a discussion about difficulties accessing IT remotely, and reminding people that they shouldn't use personal emails for sensitive work documents. Milton said his team are reinforcing the external access links to make them work a bit faster; he also mentioned that encrypted USB sticks are available that could be used to transfer info from our PCs if people thought they would be useful - I can't see them being that helpful myself).
