Hi Seamus,

Thanks for this. Myself and colleagues will review and get comments back to you mid-next week. Just to flag though at this stage it looks there are is still a significant amount that needs to be addressed as there are areas we have flagged that haven't been addressed, so further legal resource will be needed.

The timescales are getting very tight on this (as I'm sure you're feeling as well!) and I think there is a risk to these getting to the stage needed for effective implementation in the time available. As I say, I'll get back to you with the detailed feedback next week, but wanted to give a heads-up that we should be prepared for another iteration as soon as possible.

Thanks

Katy
