Yes it was a really interesting day Ali. Colin and Gillian were so kind and hospitable. It would be really great if you could offer some of our DECC colleagues a chance to see an installation in real life – do let me know All the best and many thanks for pointing me in the direction of the NUF5

Yes, I can make the 12 Ali although I will be disappointed not to see you there.

Hope Bristol is good

Jacqueline,

I hope you got my other emails ? I sent you the wrong date originally but corrected this. The Open day is on the 12th – should be interesting but unfortunately I must be in Bristol that day. I spoke to Colin Elrick – one of the presenters and he is willing to arrange to pick you up at Aberdeen if you are still interested.

I think it would be interesting for you because the NFU obviously find the RHI beneficial – But on the flip side some of the installers are very concerned about changes to the RHI.

As you know my bug bear is the 99kW tier in Northern Ireland which is definitely raising costs and skewing the market

Kindest regards

Alastair
