It was still stony silence – we’ve looked them in the eye and they’ve agreed to go with it...whether they are really engaged is another matter... Thought Mark G was more grumpy than last time but overall with a new comms and attached info think we’ll get there. Bit worried you aren’t around for the messaging though as they aren’t listening to Edmund.

We didn’t really land on how it will be communicated but Edmund said you me and him will discuss later ☺ Tommy then said he wanted a number of FAQs answered –not sure why they haven’t been raised already...ho hum. It feels like a team cascade followed by an email to me!
