Last one today [Personal information redacted by the RHI Inquiry] looks a similar case to the whistleblow one- looks to me like it's a garage with some farming stuff in – not sure if we want a further look – potential pre-approval audit?

Hi Edmund

I'm a bit concerned about this one and its exactly the type of case that could be reputationally damaging.

It's a castle and there have been lots of questions around the non-domestic use. I don't have confidence that it is completely separate based on the layout and also the office looks more like a meeting room rather than a functioning business office. Would appreciate your thoughts, so have popped it in your queue ☺

Regards

Teri
