Fiona/Frances

Please find attached our report for Share Village which I trust meets your expectations.

This has been a difficult one because we have been unable to get energy consumption details despite many attempts! However, the key message is don't jump for the next 'sexy' renewable project. Look at what you have and optimise or replace since at least two of the biomass boilers are so oversized at present for their current duties.

We will go back down and go through the report once you have commented and we have issued it.
